Practical Performance Analysis:

- You will need to observe a performer (At least 15 minutes) in the activity you will be assessed in.
- This could be an actual observation (YouTube video) or reflection of your own performance.
- You will transcribe (Write or type what you would say) your response, which must include:
 - i. Skill strengths AND weaknesses of the performer observed
 - ii. Tactical strengths AND weaknesses of the performer observed
 - iii. Fitness strengths AND weaknesses of the performer observed
 - iv. Create a 6-week action plan to include:
 1. Identification and justification of why you have chosen the weakness to improve
 2. Detailed coaching points of the skill you have chosen to improve. Include Joint names, muscle names, muscle roles and articulating bones.
 3. Minimum of 4 practices to progress from closed to open on the environmental continuum to improve the weakness. These just need to be names of practices and you need to be prepared to talk about them.

Expectations of an A Level PE Student

Typical lesson format:

- ✓ Students will complete 4 units of work throughout the A Level, This comprises of 3 theory papers (70%) and practical performance. More details of the course structure are attached.
- ✓ All lessons will be theory based and during the two years the expectation will be that you keep on top of you practical performance.
- ✓ The EAIP lessons will be completed prior to the summer and a couple in February to ensure you are fully prepared for this element of the course.
- ✓ Independent learning is embedded throughout the PE course. You will be introduced to the expectations and requirements of independent learning in an introductory activity at the beginning of the course.

Amount and type of homework:

- ✓ A Level PE requires a significant investment in time. Due to the depth of theory content, it is expected that students will complete a minimum of three hours per theory section each week outside lesson times. This equates to 9 hours of independent study away from the classroom. If work is not set for this time then reviewing notes and looking at past paper questions are tasks that can be completed.
- ✓ A Level PE also requires a significant investment in time for the practical element of the course. Due to the increase in requirements for performance, it is expected that you will complete a minimum of one hour for your activity each week outside lesson times. Regular exercise, participation and sports club membership are minimum requirements for this performance aspect of the course.
- ✓ It is important that you keep up with what is happening in the world of sport as practical examples are an integral part of higher level questioning and therefore lessons will sometimes start with questions related to what is happening. Reading newspapers, the internet, news apps etc. will be an important part of developing into an exceptional PE student.

Classroom expectations:

- ✓ The PE department has high expectations for students completing A Level PE. You must comply with the general classroom expectations communicated by the Sixth Form team (e.g. no mobile phones in lessons, no eating in the classrooms etc.).
- ✓ You will also be expected to keep a folder with notes up to date for each unit and to arrive to class with preparation work completed. Any students arriving to lessons without these will be dealt with using the Sixth Form guidelines.
